The Committee on Pensions, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 7880) granting a pension to Mrs. G. W. Griffith, have examined the same and report:

From the facts stated in the House Report, which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, we believe this to be a meritorious measure, and do recommend the passage of the bill.

[House Report No. 3117, Fifty-first Congress, first session.]

The Committee on Pensions, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 7880) granting a pension to Mrs. G. W. Griffith, have considered the same, and report as follows:

The claimant's deceased husband, George W. Griffith, was a private in Capt. James N. Sanford's company of Georgia Volunteers, Creek Indian war, and served from June 2, 1836, to July 12, 1836.

His widow is now advanced in years, without property or income, and a sufferer from rheumatism to such an extent that she can do no labor by which to earn a livelihood.

In view of the facts stated, your committee return the bill with a favorable recommendation.
